

Dear New Parents,

The summer math work for your student will be done online at ixl.com. In order for your child to do their work, they will need a username and password. Please email me at:

patricia.fothergill@ourladysacademy.org and I will happily create an account for your child. Each student has a general set of topics to work on, and I am asking that our new students complete this as well. When I get to know your child and their abilities better this program will be individualized for them.

I look forward to meeting you in the fall!

Patty Fothergill
